LINGERING OFF HATTERAS

The West Indian Hurricane Not Yet Dissipated.

An Official History of the Great Storm Just issued by the Chief of the Weather Bureau-The Most Destructive Winds in Years-Its Large Scope-Gradually Decreasing covered at Dominica and San Domingo August 7 and 8 and which pursued its course to St. Thomas, thence to Porto Rico on the north, devastating the country in its track, until it reached Providence and Nassau, still lingers off Cape Hatteras and the Virginia coast, where it has been for five days.

Reports to the Weather Bureau this orning say that, while the storm is gradually dissipating itself it is impossible to tell whether it will travel out to sea or lose its identity in its present location.

According to the Weather Bureau this has been the greatest hurricane in fifty years. Its devastation in Porto Rico alone covers four times as much territory and did four times as much damage as was accomplished by last year's great storm, which was confined to Barbodos and Bridgetown. There have been only eight such hurricenes in 400 years.

Prof. Willis H. Moore, chief of the Weather Bureau, has completed his official report on the hurricane which was published today. He says:

"This hurricone was remarkable by reason of the devastation which attended its passage over a number of the islands of the West Indies from Dominica to Santo Domingo during the 7th and 8th, and on account of its slow progressive move-ment over the ocean north of the West Indies from the 9th to the 13th. So far as can be determined from information received from various sources, the storm of Porto Rico, where towns were demolwas particularly destructive on the island ished, many lives were lost, and not less than 100,000 of the inhabitants were ren-dered homeless and destitute. The storm was particularly destructive in and about Ponce, where rivers overflowed, and it is estimated that 200 persons were drowned and property was destroyed to the value of over $500 000.

Other Islands Suffered.

"Other islands to the eastward of Porto Rico suffered severely. On the island of Montserrat nearly 100 persons were reported killed and villages and estates were destroyed. Immense damage was also wrought on the Island of Guadeloupe, and It is reported that the destruction on the island of St. Croix was appalling. No serious damage is shown to have been caused at St. Thomas, and the hurricane was not so severe at Antigua. To the west of Porto Rico damage was caused in the morth part of Santo Domingo. The hurri-came was less violent in its passage north of Cape Haitien and over Turks Island.

"Although reports have not been re-ceived from Nassau, it is evident that the storm was very severe over the Bahama laisinds. In its northward passage off the South Atlantic Coast from the 13th to 15th, the storm-centre fortunately followed a path too far to the eastward to cause particularly destructive gales along our coasts of our Southern States. "The accurate and timely warnings issued by the Weather Bureau in advance of this storm have, according to advices re-ceived from numerous sources, been the means of saving many lives and a vast amount of property, and the same sources state that if the warning sent to Ponce, Porto Rico, on Monday, had been made public and disseminated and not withheld by the alcalde the loss of life and proper-ty on Tuesday at that place would have been greatly lessened.

Hurricane History. "The history of the hurricane, as determined by reports received to date, is as Despatches received from the West Indian stations of the Weather Bureau on the morning of August 7, 1899, showed the presence of a hurricane centre to the eastward of the Island of minica. The official in charge of the Weather Bureau office at Havana, Cuba, was immediately telegraphed by the Central Office of the Weather Bureau at Washington, to order hurricane signals from Dominich to Perto Rico, and to send advisory messages containing information regarding the position and character of the storm to Barbados, St. Vincent, and St. Lucia, and also to call for special cheer-vations from the Lesser Antillee, San Juan, Porto Rico; Santiago, Cuba, and King-eton. At 2:40 p. m. of the 7th, the hur-ricane signal was ordered at Santo Do-mingo, and information was furnished that the hurricane centre was apparently mov-ing northwest. This information was also telegraphed to all coast stations of the Weather Bureau from Boston to Mobile, and furnished to the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department; the Maritime Exchanges of New York and Philadelphia, and to

"On the morning of August 8, reports were not received from Weather Bureau stations east of Cuba. At that time, however, the Weather Bureau felt justified in announcing that the centre of the storm was approaching Porto Rico and that it would probably uses over or porth of their probably pass over or north of that island and to the porth of Santo Dor This information was telegraphed to Hava-na and Santiago, and hurricane signals were ordered for the latter named place. Sub-sequent advices from San Juan, Porto Rico, show that the hurricans centre passed over or very near that island at 8:40 m. m. of the Progress of the Storm.

"From the 9th to the 13th the course of the hurricane centre lay to the north of ton Lean and Trust Company building. Santo Domingo, Haiti, and eastern Cuba, a Ninth and P streets, to Miss Clara Barton's wast area of ocean from which no reports bouse at Glen Echo. The removal was comare received. By the morning of the 10th, pleted today, however, it was evident that the centre was approaching the Bahama Islands, and a notification to this effect was telegraphed the colonial authorities at Nassau, and the official in charge of the Weather Bureau office at Havana was instructed to advise wessels bound east or north to remain in Washington before the middle or lant of September. the colonial authorities at Nassau, and the official in charge of the Weather Bureau office at Havana was instructed to advise wessels bound cart or north to remain in port. This information was supplemented in the officers in the afternoon by a message to Nassau which advised precentlonary measures in view of a probable hurricane visitation. "During the Itih the harometer fell rapidly at Nassau and the wind increased a gale from the northeast; hurricane signals were ordered on the Florida Atlantic Coast from Jupiter southward to Key West, on the Gulf Coast of Florida as far north as Tampa, and as Havana, Cuba, and shipping and all other interests concerned, were notified of the dangerous and destructive character of the approaching storm. During the evening of the 11th, telegraphic communication with Nassau. Bahama, was lost. The movning of the 12th, hurricane signals were ordered at Jacksonville, Savanuah, and Charleston, with the informa-tion that the hurricane centre was ap-proaching Jupiter, moving porthwest, and sens were indicated for the north Florida, Georgia, and South Carolina coasts.

"Recurving aorthward, the storm centre reached a position off the north Fiorida coast by the morning of the 14th, and dur-

AN ACCOUNTING ASKED FOR.

roccedings Against the Eureka Park Company's Late Manager. The officers and members of the Eureka Park Company today through their attorney, E. L. Gies, filed proceedings in equity against William H. West, formerly general manager of the company, asking that he be restrained from further interfering with the management of the corporation and also be made to give an accounting of his stewardship. The Eureka Park Company maintains a pleasure resort at Hills-dale, Anacostia. The complainants are William H. Thomas, president of the company; Violetta Tibbs, vice president; Mol en, treasurer, and others.

It is alleged that West while managing ne business of the company falled to turn over to the treasurer within twenty-fou hours, as prescribed by the rules of the corporation, all moneys collected. It is further stated that West collected for rental for the park $316, but of this sum rental for the park $315, but of this sum he only made account of $88.25 to the treasurer, and when called upon to give an account at a meeting of the Eureka Park Company held August 11, the office of the general manager was declared va-cant and the president, William H. and deliver to him notes secured by a first deed of trust upon the property for the balance.

The complainant says that he received both the notes and cash shortly thereafter, but upon two of the notes not being paid in full, he declares, he recently caused an investigation to be made on account of the trustes refusing to foreclose under his trust and discovered that the trust given him was a second lien subject to one to the Richmond Banking Company, which had been foreclosed and the property attampted to be bought in by the company. Therefore he charges Stone with having secured the deed from him and obtained the trust through fraud. It is also alleged that both the company and Irvine were aware of complainant's agreement with Stone. The court is requested to cancel both the trust and sale, to declare complainant's lien to be the first one and appoint trustees to sell and make payment.

Mr. Keene and his coterie and their subsidized Wall Street papers continue to say that no advance can come in this market. An interesting theory, but not a particularly convincing one in the face of the fact that the market continues to advance. Today's market was very strong in all the railway shares and somewhat weak in many of the industrials. It was one of the best days in its general features that the market has seen in three or four months. There was large buying of the grangers and other railway securities before the bank statement, and although the statement was not as good as that of last week it induced very little realizing, and prices continued to advance after it apprices continued to advance after it apprices continued to advance after it apprices. the fact that the market continues to ad-Wilmington, Del., Aug. 12.—The body of Samuel W. railway list, all making bandsome gains and closing at the top prices for the day. St. Paul especially was buoyant, getting into territory that has not been reached before in many years. The top price reached was 1343-4, the close being at 1345-8. Atchison preferred also made a fine spurt, reaching 667-8 at the closing sals. Rock Island went to 120 1-4, and Burlington 1377-8, and both closed near those levels. This is the first strong upward movement that these securities have made in nearly two months. At the beginning of July they were at a level of prices practically as high as that of the first part of this week. The stocks were at all times atrong. week. The stocks were at all times atrong but did not seem inclined to advance in price. The buoyancy of yesterday and to Tennessee Coal and Iron was even more buoyant than on any previous day of the week. The close last night was at 92 and the high price reached today was 951-2, the close being near the top. The buying of the stock was spirited and apparently much of it was for the commission houses. The promises of the friends of the company are authusiastic. It is said that the Hanover Bank people expect to see par reached on Monday.

MANGLED BY A BIG DOG. Perocious Assault Upon a Child by 'a

St. Bernard. Newburg, N. Y., Aug. 19.—The families of Elias Terwilliger and Stephen La Porge, of Crawford, Orange county. Thursday went up on Shawangunk Mountain berry picking. Mrs. Terwilliger took her big St. Bernard dog along for protection.

On the return trip the children were run ning down the mountain, when the dog sprang upon one of the La Forge children, a boy of six years old, threw him down and shook him as he would a kitten. Before he ould be driven away the dog had torn one of the lad's ears off and one of his eyes out, besides inflicting other injuries upon the little fellow.

The eye was pushed back and the lad carried home, and a physician was called. The eye was so badly swollen that it could not be told whether it could be saved. The

An Irate Father-in-Law's Vengeaner Louisville, Ky., Aug. 19.—George Breitenstein and Miss Mammie Hoertz, wellknown young people of this city, quietly slipped over to Jeffersonville, Ind., about three weeks ago and were married. Their wedding was kept secret until today, the groom having taken time to fix up his house so that it would be suitable for the occupancy of himself and bride. The nup-tials were to be announced in today's pa-pers and last night the young woman stole away from the demicile of her parents and went to her new home. Her father in some way learned of the marriage, and late last night went to the place of abode of his son-in-law, took the girl, and, re-turning, smashed all the furniture in the
